DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Claims 1-12 are directed to buckle status detector using inductance change detection (corresponding to Fig. 5) and claims 13-22 are directed to a buckle status detector using coupling factor detection (corresponding to Fig. 6).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, there is no claim generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1, 11, 13 and 21 are objected to because of the following informalities:

The term "directly interrogates" in Claims 1 and 13 appears inaccurate in that the sensor does not perform this function of interrogate.

According to claim 1 and 13, the claim dependency recitation should be placed in preamble of the claim in Claims 11 and 21 respectively where the "device" should be move to the first line of claim.

Appropriate correction is required.
